Book Review

Frederick by Leo Lionni
Reviewed by Theo Dry, 4.5 stars

The field mice had lots to eat at the beginning of the winter. Frederick gathered a lot and at the end they didn't have a lot to eat, but he brought sunlight and he gave them colors and words. Then, they clapped and he blushed because they told him he was a poet.

Sometimes, when people go on a trip, some people gather food and clothing and other people find things to do and things to talk about on the way. I think this book is a good book. I recommend it for four- to twelve-year-olds.

Calling All Students

by: Ms. Gloria Lee, Room 309

Do you have a story or poem that you have written, which you would like to see in our school newspaper? Would you like to be a roving reporter and write up your favorite experience at the upcoming N.C. State Fair? Do you have an essay or opinion about current events that you think is worthwhile for others to know? If so, please drop your writing off in Ms. Lee's room, or ask your teacher to place it in my mailbox. We will try to publish once a quarter.

I have received feedback from some students that they would like to see a food critic section in our Super Sting Express News. If you are interested in this food editor position, please mention it to your classroom teacher and the information can be passed on to me. Thank you.

Service Project

by: Third Grade Explorers

During an Explorer Language Arts class, the third graders determined that each of them loved Reading, excelled in Reading, and knew their alphabet letters long before beginning school. With this in mind they used a distinct and different pattern to create an alphabet book for donation to a Kindergarten class at Cedar Fork Elementary. The title of the book is Yesterday's Alphabet and the authors are:

Tathagat Halder
Brooke Dudzinski
Sahej Khanna

When Asked, "What is the Best Advice You Have Ever Received?"

- "Work hard, persevere, and you shall meet your goal." This advice can be used anywhere. I am a great pianist who enjoys playing piano. When I was selected to play piano at the state competition, I worked hard, persevered, and got the position of 1st place. I won against elderly people.
-Shreya Sahoo
- When people annoy you, you should not be afraid to tell them to stop annoying you. If they still continue, then you will have to tell the teacher.
-Shri Patel
- The best advice came from my Grandfather who told me to "Control only what you can do." I use this advice when I play baseball.
-Brandt Anderson
- Once when I was going through some pretty rough bullying, my Mom taught me, "The bully is only doing this to make herself feel better." That showed me the bullying was not my fault, and that was really helpful for me.
-Quinlan Campbell
- The best advice I ever received was, "Express yourself through dance not through your voice."
-Adiyah Allen

Read carefully interview below...

An Interview with Ms. Kelsey Bayse by Shaina Patel, 4th grade

What is your favorite band/musical group or song? Currently my favorite song is Stitches by Shawn Mendes. My favorite changes on a daily basis. I have a very eclectic taste in music. I love everything from the oldies to rock and roll.

How do you play the music you listen to? I listen to most of my music in the car through my iPhone. I have several playlists, but mostly I use Pandora.

Where were you born? I was born in Richmond, Virginia.

What is something funny that has happened to you? In high school my friends filled my entire car with cotton balls as a practical joke.

What is your favorite food? I am addicted to peanut butter.

What clubs did you belong to in high school and college? During my high school and college years I participated in a variety of clubs and sports. I played soccer, ran track, and was involved in numerous Honor Societies such as Beta Club, Golden Key Club, and the National Honor Society. I also participated in Pep Club and Future Teachers of America.

Who is a real life hero to you? My mother is because she displays perseverance and determination despite any obstacle thrown her way.

What do you like best about Cedar Fork Elementary? I like best the diverse school environment.

Do you have a husband or kids? No, but I have a fur baby named Gryffin.

What video games do you like? I really do not play a whole lot of video games, but when I was a kid I loved playing some good old fashion Mario Kart. -----

Enjoying the crisp fall weather? Check out this writing and gorgeous picture by Kindergartener Ashritha Suresh.

“One day I went to the woods with my friends. I felt happy and excited.”

Student and Staff Quick Poll: What foods would you like to see our Cafeteria serve that it currently does not?

- Chapati by Rishil Shirumall, 3rd grade
- Sushi, several fourth and fifth grade students walking by in the hall
- Baked chicken with rice or meatloaf, Ms. McCoy, staff
- Apple Crisp, Ms. Shrode, staff
- Pita, Ms. Purtee, Staff
- Chapati...also some butter chicken and naan, Ms. Stone, Principal

2nd Grade Story Writing...

Hafsa Gets to Play on the Phone by A.S.

This happened over the summer but my sisters Maham and Maryam were at school. My little sister Hafsa walked upstairs and dashed into Maryam's room. Since Maryam was gone, Hafsa took her phone!

She jumped into her older sister's bed, hid in the blanket on the bed, and played games on the phone. Finally when my two older sisters came home they noticed that Hafsa was not downstairs. We went upstairs to look for her. We found her with the phone. Maryam shouted, "Hafsa!" Maryam put a password on her phone after that.
